

Protect vision.
Promote safety.
Boost productivity.

Your safety eyeglass program

Your safety eyeglass program can be offered as a stand-alone benefit or in conjunction with a routine eye care plan. By providing proper eye protection, while also correcting vision, you help improve employee safety, comfort, and on-the-job productivity.

Employee health and safety is a shared responsibility among labor, management, and government. While protecting worker well-being is the top priority, preventing workplace eye injuries also makes strong business sense. The National Safety Council estimates that eye injuries cost U.S. industries approximately $500 million each year. Investing in preventive eye protection helps reduce risk, minimize lost productivity, and control costs.
